IN BRIEF.

Ladies and misses' hosiery at cost, at Harris Bros.

There is much sickness among children about.

Stocks continue soft and on the downward grade.

Congressman Cassidy is expected in Carson some time next week.

Miss Adele Waters passed through Reno for New York last night.

Evan David, who was recently violently kicked by a mustang, is able to be out.

A session of the U. S. District Court, Judge Sabin, will be held in this city next month.

Miss Frankie Dow, of this city, has secured a school at Colville, on the line of the C. & C. Railroad.

All negotiations so far on the part of Manager Preddey to get a good Company to come here have failed.

Edward Yerington, Secretary of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad Company, is rusticated at Lake Tahoe.

George C. Bryson, Jack Ross, Dan Garrard and L. L. Elrod have returned from a camping trip to Wolf Creek.

It is about time that the Carson brass band started into practice so that they may give us some good campaign music this fall.

A Committee of the Miners' Union were in town yesterday making arrangements to hold the annual picnic at Treadway's Park.

The Storey county Grand Jury will make a partial report on Monday next, when there will be considerable rattling among the dry bones.

During the past few days no new gubernatorial aspirants have sprung up, producing an undesirable degree of monotony in political circles.

Colonel A. C. and P. B. Ellis returned from San Francisco yesterday, where they attended the burial of their sister, Mrs. Zoe Eldridge.

Mrs. George D. Roberts, wife of the well known mining operator, and a party of friends, are in town, coming from the Yosemite Valley.

The friends of General John R. Kittrell say that he will certainly get away with the Democratic nomination for District Judge in Washoe county.

Only $487 was contributed to the Nellie Lyons Fund. But this is certain, the big hearted miners of the Comstock will never allow the young Miss to want for anything.

John H. Harris, formerly District Attorney of Storey county, left here last night for Bellevue, Wood River, taking with him the material of the defunct Gold Hill News, and will start a daily paper at that point.

A Carson merchant has sent to San Francisco for some five cent nickels with which to make even change for his customers. He'd better look out that he is not spirited away some dark night for his innovation.

Table linens, towelings and towels at cost, at Harris Bros.

The Two Governors.

Matt Canavan, Democratic aspirant for Governor, passed eastward last Sunday evening, and Jewett W. Adams, a counter aspirant, went along also. So it looks as though they must have gone along together in order to keep an eye on each other's movements. While they were taking supper Sunday evening at Chamberlain's, Governor Canavan detected his vis-a-vis Adams winking at a colored waiter. Thinking he was endeavoring to color a voter (this joke is reserved), Governor Canavan after awhile quietly called the colored waiter aside, and slipping a dollar into his palm, whispered: "Don't pay any attention to that individual across the way. He's a little off his nut."

After supper the two Governors traveled backwards, where Mr. Canavan treated the kind waiter to a cigar. Hardly had he lit it before Governor Adams buttonholed the colored gentleman and remarked aside: "You should look out for that suspicious looking individual who just offered you a cigar. He is capable of poisoning you; I cannot vouch for his reputation—and you know me of course my boy." Unless the two Governors soon separate there is no telling what might be said between them, unless it is the old gubernatorial remark, "It's a long time between drinks."—Reno Journal.

The Beauty of It.

A man's name can scarcely appear in the columns of a newspaper this year stating that he is a probable candidate for a State office before he is besieged by a horde of bunners striking him for coin all the way from a dollar upwards. A Carsonite whose name had casually been mentioned in a paper in connection with a State office informed the APPEAL reporter that in less than twenty-four hours after the notice appeared he had been approached by so many camp followers asking him for the loan of money in consideration of future services, promising goods which they could not deliver. These strikers are barnacles on every political party and their services and influence are not worth a counterfeit dime.

A Drunken Mother.

Yesterday afternoon a woman more than comfortably drunk was staggering down the railroad track near Treadway's followed by a small mob of jeering boys, who manifested as much glee at the sight as they would at seeing a circus street parade. She was eventually taken charge of by a fourteen-year-old girl who had evidently been looking for her, and conveyed her home. The woman is said to be the mother of several children, but neglects them and her home generally most shamefully owing to her ruinous appetite for strong drink.

Small Shot.

It is said that a Chinaman who attempted to raid a chicken house on Wednesday night, in the lower part of town, had his back perforated with duck shot as he attempted to make his escape when discovered by his intended victim. As yet the Chinaman has lodged no complaint against the white man with the Sheriff.

How at Empire.

The usually quiet village of Empire is getting to be quite disreputable in the matter of street brawls and bar room fights. On Wednesday an old man named Laws was severely beaten by another with whom he had been playing cards all night. The under man in the fight is seriously injured and may lose his life.

Captured.

George H. Marsh, the escaped convict, was recaptured at Truckee on Wednesday and returned to his quarters at the State Prison yesterday. He got away from here by way of the Glenbrook road. It is probable that George's movements will be somewhat restricted from this on.

The Democrats of Carson and Washoe say that Adams orders beer and whisky right on the same counters that are still slippery with the slops of Matt Canavan's Roderer. For the sole effect Adams should keep at least a day ahead of his opponent.

Ladies and children's shoes at cost, at Harris Bros.

Theatrical Glimpses.

It is estimated that five hundred and ten combinations will take the road next season.

Gilbert and Sullivan have already received $60,000 royalty for "The Pirates of Penzance."

Miss Alice Cook, formerly with the Soldene troupe, is singing in a Nevada concert saloon.

Bret Harte is at work on a drama founded on his story, "The Luck of Roaring Camp."

Thomas Keene will play at the Fifth Avenue Theater in January. It will be his first appearance in the metropolis.

Four new theaters, all first class, and two huge substantial places for panorama are now being built in New York. Everything tends upwards.

A letter from Cannes states that Celine Montaland, once the artistic beauty of the Grand Opera House under Jim Fisk's management, is now in reduced circumstances, and travels in the service of a wealthy family.

Theo gets 100,000 francs for sixty performances during two months in four cities in the United States. In addition she gets expenses for herself and two persons. She makes her first appearance at the Casino in New York on September 11th.

Johann Strauss' personal profits on "The Merry War" have already reached the enormous sum of a quarter million dollars. He receives ten per cent of the gross receipts at all representations of the opera in Europe and five per cent of those in this country.

Robeson and Crane have filled all their time for next season and many weeks of 1883-4. They open in Archie Gunter's new comedy "D. A. M.", at Springfield, on September 25th. They have a new play by Joseph Bradford, entitled "The Two Cherubs," in which they may be seen before the close of the season.

Among the ladies whose performance recently at Bayreuth in Wagner's new opera has been highly praised is Miss Schneppe of New York. Miss Schneppe is described as a beautiful girl, with light hair and blue eyes, twenty-four years old and about as tall as Miss Kellogg.

The reorganization of the National Russian Opera is at present engaging attention at St. Petersburg. The chorus is to be increased to 120, and the orchestra to 100 members. For costumes, scenery, etc., a credit of 1,000,000 roubles has been granted. The season to be opened with Glinka's opera "Life for the Czar."

An ingenious device in case of fire is to be introduced at the new Casino building, Broadway and Eighty-ninth street. The ceiling over the stage is to be covered with a system of automatic sprinklers, which are "capped" with lead. When heat rises to 108 degrees the lead caps melt away, and immediately occasions a steady flow of water.

Charles Frohman has made arrangements for bringing the London Prince of Wales Company, with Charles F. Coghlan at the head of it to this country in the season of 1883-4. He says that Mr. Coghlan has improved wonderfully in his acting—at least, Mr. Frohman's idea of his present style is that it will astonish and please the American audiences.

Sol Smith Russell tells the following: Atasmall Ohio town where he had given a performance some years ago, he met at the depot the following morning an elderly granger, who, while he peacefully munched a large quid of tobacco, intently eyed the comedian and finally said: "Say, mister, ben't you the feller wot gen the show up at Smoot's Hall last night?" "Yes," replied Russell, "I did give an entertainment at Smoot's Hall last night." "Wall, I thought you was the chap. I want to tell you 'bout a boy of mine; you ought to have him to travel with you; he's just the fellow for your show; he's the d—dest fool I ever seen!"

M. W. Starling, of the Mint, found some tricks similar to those at the State Prison, in a quarry at Dayton as early as 1863. He cut out a slab of sand stone and sent it to Sacramento, where it is now on exhibition.

Shiloh's Cure will immediately relieve croup, whooping cough and bronchitis.

By the middle of next month the mornings and evenings will begin to grow disagreeably cold at Hope Valley, therefore those who desire to visit that locality this year will have very little time to lose.

Fay Templeton, the child actress, who in years past used to fascinate Carson audiences, is now electrifying the people of large Eastern cities as a prima donna in English and comic opera.

School Books at Cagwin & Noteware's

Just received a full assortment of school stationery and text books, consisting of wire-bound, noiseless and book slates; pencils, sponges, scholars' companions, ticklers, memorandum pads, composition and copy books, rulers, pen-wipers, crayons, ink, pens, holders and paper, all of which parents, guardians, teachers and pupils are requested to inspect before purchasing outfits for the ensuing term of the public schools in Carson, Empire and vicinity. A Stylographic pen given away with a quart bottle of Caw's jet black ink, at the News Depot, opposite the Postoffice, Carson. au24

Such talk as "I am afraid to send for a watch or chain, for fear that I would not be suited," is all silly nonsense—for just write what kind of an article you want, giving a plain description of it and the price you want to pay, and in nine cases out of ten you will be sent a better one than you wrote for, or at even less than you are willing to pay, for often Uncle Harris' price for an article, after reckoning the loan and interest, comes to less than the money sent by the purchaser. Remember, 221 Kearny street, between Bush and Sutter, San Francisco.

PURE FRESH MILK

CAN BE BOUGHT OF

F. Ambrosetti.

DELIVERED MORNING AND EVENING.

THOSE WITH YOUNG CHILDREN.

Those who desire to secure pure milk for their children, will do well to order our cow's milk of us. The cows are all healthy, and have clear water and sweet meadow upon which to feed. I do not feed my cows on manure or slops. I do not live in the neighborhood where the sewage water of the city runs. I do not sell my customers poor milk. My dairy premises are well from Carson, where the pure mountain water and upward grade combine in the best possible manner for nature's most nourishing beverage.

Carson people can safely call on me for the purest milk at prices to suit the times. My business is to supply my premises and stock is desired. [Imp.]
